

JOB VACANCY

Agronomist – Industry Liaison & Extension (casual or contract)

A great opportunity to network with industry representatives and scientists

Location: Preferably in South East Queensland (negotiable)

Immediate start!!

Crop Consultants Australia (CCA) hosts two professional development and networking events each year. The Cropping Solutions Seminars feature research updates, product news and technological developments relevant to the cotton and broadacre crop production.

CCA is seeking an agronomist to assist the Executive Officer to deliver relevant and quality seminars. The position will be responsible for developing the agronomic components of the seminar program.

Key duties include:

- Liaising with members, the CCA Board, research & development corporation staff, researchers and other industry representatives to identify topics and speakers.
- Coordinating the Corporate EOI process for additional presentations and trade displays.
- Communicating with speakers and securing their involvement with the seminar.
- Preparing the draft program of presentations.
- Act as the point of contact for speakers at the events and assist with general setup of the venue.

The position offers flexible work hours from March to August 2012 with the opportunity to work from home. Hours will vary from week to week. The position consists of approximately 150 hours over the autumn/winter period. The opportunity may arise to work on other agronomic projects.

There is the option to operate as a contractor (with your own ABN) or to be employed on a casual basis. Reasonable operating expenses and travel will be reimbursed by CCA.

To apply, email your resume and a cover letter outlining why you are interested in the position and include the key skills and experience you would bring to the role in relation to your ability to perform the key duties.

CLOSING DATE: 29 February 2012
